TEN COMMANDMENTS OF HUMAN RELATIONS

1. Thou Shalt Love People, Not Just Use Them (Matthew 22:39).

The greatest thing in the world is a person. The greatest thing about a person is his motives, and the greatest motive is love.

2. Thou Shalt Develop Thine Understanding (Matthew 7:12; 1 Peter

3:7). “If every man’s care were written on his brow, how many would our pity share, who bear our envy now.”

3. Thou Shalt Compliment More Than Criticize (1 Peter 3:10; Romans 14:19).

We should cover our neighbor’s faith with a cloak of charity; we may need a circus tent to cover our own.

4. Thou Shalt Not Often Get Angry (Ephesians 4:26).

If we are right, we do not need to. If we are wrong, we cannot afford to.

5. Thou Shalt Not Argue (Ephesians 4:32).

It is no use to win the argument and lose the relationship. Beware of the attitude that says, “In matters controversial, my attitude is fine. I always see two points of view—the one that is wrong and mine.”

6. Thou Shalt Be Kind (1 Corinthians 13:4).

Be kind to people you meet on the way up; they are the ones you meet on the way down. It is nice to be important, but it is more important to be nice.

7. Thou Shalt Have a Sense of Humor (Proverbs 17:22).

A sense of humor is to a man what springs are to a wagon. It saves him lots of jolts.

8. Thou Shalt Smile (cf. Ecclesiastes 3:4)

No man is ever fully dressed until he has a smile on his face.

Powder your face with sunshine.

Put on a great big smile.

Make up your eyes with laughter.

Folks will be laughing with you in a little while.

Whistle a tune of gladness.

Gloom never was worthwhile.

The future’s brighter when hearts are lighter.

So, smile, smile, smile.

9. Thou Shalt Practice What Thou Preachest (Romans 2:21).

One example is worth one thousand arguments.

10. Thou Shalt Go to School under the Headmaster of the Universe (John 14:6).

He is the Master of Men, the Secretary of Human Relations—namely, Jesus Christ. He is the greatest leader the world has ever known.

I am too blessed to be stressed!

One who kneels to God can stand up to anything.

We all live under the same sky, but we do not all have the same horizon.

—Konrad Adenauer

FIVE REASONS TO NOT USE PROFANITY

Profanity has become so common that many no longer consider it objectionable. It is printed in papers, used on camera, spoken in mixed company by both sexes, and used in the presence of children, as if God does not object. He does. God’s name is not to be treated irreverently.

God forbade the ancient Israelites’ taking His name in vain. “You shall not take the name of the Lord your God in vain, for the Lord will not hold him guiltless who takes His name in vain” (Exodus 20:7).

God’s name is holy and reverend; it is to be respected. “Holy and awesome is His name” (Psalm 111:9).

God’s name is to be hallowed. Jesus said, “In this manner, therefore, pray: Our Father in heaven, hallowed be Your name” (Matthew 6:9). The Greek word hagiozo means: “to set apart from common use” (Berry).

God’s name and His doctrine are not to be blasphemed (1 Timothy 6:1). It may surprise you to know that profanity is more common in so-called Christian America than in heathen countries. Idolaters often have greater reverence for their false gods than some persons do for the true and living God.

A missionary was returning from India with his small son who had never been to America. One day an American on deck was using profuse profanity. The missionary said to him, “Sir, my boy was born and brought up in a land of idolatry, but in all his life he has never heard a man blaspheme his Maker until now.”

The New Testament forbids a person’s using profanity by command and principle (Ephesians 4:29; Colossians 3:8). As Christ is a member of the Godhead (Colossians 2:9; Matthew 28:19), His name is not to be taken in vain.

Children should be taught not to use profanity (Proverbs 22:6; Ephesians 6:4).

To use profanity in the presence of persons who object to it is to manifest a lack of respect for them (Matthew 7:12).

To sin, a person does not have to say the obscene words orally. He can use profanity in his heart even as he can commit adultery (Matthew 5:28) or murder (1 John 3:15) in his heart (see Matthew 9:4; Proverbs 23:7).

—Eris Benson (adapted)

“Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in Your sight, O Lord” (Psalm 19: 14).

“For every idle word that men may speak, they will give account of it in the day of judgment” Matthew 12:36
